The Special Studies Series

AFRICA:
SPECIAL STUDIES
1962-1980
1962-1980
Africa: Special Studies

The Special Studies Series
Reel 1

AFRICA

The Role of Military Assistance in the Problem of Arms Control in the Middle East

Contents

South Asia

Bangladesh

Nepal

Pakistan

India

China

Ethiopia

Egypt (Zaire)

Angola

Algeria

Armenia

Index

Frame 1-13

Subject Index

0517

Regional Arms Control Arrangements for Developing Areas: Arms and Arms Control Arrangements

Control arrangements

Regional arms control arrangements...
Communique (cont.)

AFRICA (cont.)

The Role of LUS Assistance in Developping Independent Leadership

The role of LUS assistance in developing independent leadership is significant in the region. A balanced approach to developing leadership is crucial for the development of the region. The role of LUS assistance in developing leadership is essential for the growth and development of the region.

AFRICA (cont.)

The Role of LUS Assistance in Social Programs

The role of LUS assistance in social programs is significant in the region. A balanced approach to social programs is crucial for the development of the region. The role of LUS assistance in social programs is essential for the growth and development of the region.
NIGERIA

The Nigerian Federal Republic is a federal republic consisting of 36 states and the Federal Capital Territory. The country is located in West Africa and is bordered by Benin to the west, Chad and Cameroon to the north, and Ghana to the east. Nigeria is the most populous country in Africa and the 7th most populous country in the world, with over 210 million people. The official language is English, and the capital is Abuja. Nigeria is a member of the Commonwealth of Nations and is one of the emerging powers in Africa. The country is known for its oil and gas industry, as well as its rich cultural heritage.

KENYA

The Republic of Kenya is a unitary presidential republic located in East Africa. It is bordered by Uganda to the north, Tanzania to the northeast, South Sudan to the north and east, Ethiopia to the east, Somalia to the south, the Indian Ocean to the south and west, and the Gulf of Aden to the north. The capital city is Nairobi. Kenya is known for its wildlife reserves, which are home to a large number of animals, including elephants, lions, and giraffes. The country is also known for its tea production and its role in East African politics.

NAMIBIA

Namibia is a southern African country, bordered by South Africa, Botswana, Zimbabwe, Zambia, and Angola. It is the world's 96th largest country by area and the 70th most populous, with a population of just over 2.6 million. Namibia is known for its vast deserts, including the Namib Desert, and its wildlife reserves, which are home to a large number of animals. The country is also known for its rich cultural heritage and its role in the liberation struggle against apartheid.

LIBYA

The Libyans are one of the largest ethnic groups in Libya, where they constitute the dominant ethnic group. The Libyans are predominantly Muslim and speak the Libyan Arabic dialect. The country is located in North Africa and is bordered by Tunisia to the west, Egypt to the east, the Mediterranean Sea to the north, and Algeria to the southwest. Libya is known for its oil and gas industry, as well as its rich cultural heritage and history.
The following index is a guide to the major subjects of the ocean floor. The Roman numerals indicate the major section of this book, the section number (I to IV), the book number (I to IV), the page number, and the line number within the page.